

BELLINGHEN LIBRARY COMMEMORATES ANZAC DAY

To commemorate Anzac Day Bellinghen Library with local Gleniffer residents Moira and Kevin Franklin hosted a special display of photographs, books and military items.

An enthusiastic group of children and a steady stream of interested parents listened while Kevin and Moira talked about the declaration of World War 1 in 1914 and the first convoy of Australian troops from Albany in Western Australia. Kevin then gave an entertaining explanation of the military items on display.

Kevin is a familiar sight at Anzac Day parades and both Kevin and Moira regularly attend primary schools, nursing homes and community events on behalf of the RSL.

Bellinghen Shire Mayor, Cr Mark Troy thanked the Franklins for once again generously donating their time to mount the display at the Library and help educate our young people about the Anzac story.
